1963 ES 125 TDC

The ES-125 started off as a deep body single P90 pickup model introduced in 1941. It was a popular guitar as it was much more affordable than other Gibson archtops.

The ES-125T, with the thinner body, was introduced in 1956 and the Florentine cutaway ES-125TDC was introduced in 1960. The cherry sunburst model was released in 1961. The ES-125 TDC was discontinued in 1970.

This guitar features two P90 pickups, trapeze tailpiece, and dot inlay fingerboard.

Price: $4,695
